PA NEWS OBSERVES

Due to the scarcity of houses and apartments, one local real estate dealer solved the problem of being less annoyed with inquiries for one property. On the front door was a sign "RENTED."

Detour marks are becoming a little more numerous on the Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, but not in the local district. There is a five-mile detour between Wheatland and Farrell, where improvements are being made in Wheatland borough, which is the only new detour in the local district, for the period ending April 30.

For the odd sights department:
A young man swinging a golf club on the roof of a downtown building, Friday afternoon.

There is nothing more unstable than the weather, as was proven yesterday. The day started out cold and gloomy in the morning and it looked like a miserable day was due, but the sun came out bright and warm and the afternoon was very pleasant. Last April, we had snow as late as the 22nd of the month, with freezing temperatures until the 25th after which it got warm and stayed that way.

Downtown passersby were attracted by a Fleming, Kentucky license plate, attached to an automobile parked on East Washington street, this morning. The numerals were blue and the background white.

Will Not Permit Soviet To Buy Fleet In U. S.

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Russia's attempt to "buy" a navy in this country will not be permitted by the government, it was learned today as a Soviet order to two large American shipbuilding corporations for a 35,000-ton battleship aroused a storm of official protest.

The proposed floating fortress would match the two new American battleships, last word in naval fighting units, construction of which will not begin until early July and will take from three to five years to complete.

Congressional opposition was immediately stimulated on disclosure the Soviet has sought the services of American shipbuilders — the same concerns which under the law would build one-half of all the navy's fighting craft — and a move was launched to block the attempt by amending the neutrality act, now being considered by congress.
Strenuous objections also were voiced by the navy and state departments.

Congress Sentiment Against New Taxes

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Rising opposition to enactment of a new tax bill in the present session of congress today spurred congressional leaders to lay new plans to slash expenditures.

Strong sentiment against a new tax bill was disclosed in both the senate finance and house ways and means committee, which are charged with the duty of framing new revenue measures.

For Cut In Expenditures
Rep. Doughton (D) of North Carolina, chairman of the ways and means committee, declared emphatically for a huge cut in governmental expenditures in line with revenues. He pointed to the presidential order to all departments to cut expenditures as an indication that the administration believes it can save money.

"I am for retrenchment in governmental expenditures," said Rep.
Doughton with emphasis. "I do not want any tax bill at this session.
We can not say positively what must be done in the future, but I hope we can avoid it."

Doughton, who joined with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, senate finance committee chairman, in a statement last summer saying that no new taxes would be needed, said that "it doesn't look well to say every year that there will be no tax bill and then enact one."

'Petting Party' Bandit Slain

Makes Mistake In Holding Up Policeman And Wife
In Cleveland

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, April 17.—A 19 year old "petting party" bandit, identified as George Cervenski, was dead here today because he tried to hold up the wrong couple, a patrolman and his wife.

For the last two weeks Patrolman Earl Dietrick and another policeman have been waiting for a youth who has terrorized couples in parked automobiles in Gordon park.
Last night Dietrick and his wife, returning from a movie, decided to attempt a capture.

With another patrolman in an auto some distance away, Mr. and Mrs. Dietrick parked in a lonely section of the park. Before long a youth appeared, brandished a small revolver, and said:
"Give me all your money, or I'll blow your brains out."

Dietrick fired once with his service revolver, and the youth fell dead, a bullet through his chest. Police said he was the man sought for all recent Gordon park hold-ups.

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., April 17.—Three members of an East Liverpool, Ohio, family met instant death and the other two were reported in a dying condition today at St. Vincent's hospital as the result of a head-on crash with a truck and trailer two miles west of Girard.

The dead were: William Skidmore, 56; his wife, Leona, and a son, Eugene, 20.

Reported dying were another son,
Claude, 26, and Robert Hall, 25.
Both suffered fractured skulls and jaws and were unconscious.

Collide On Curve
State highway patrolmen from the Girard barracks were investigating. They said the Skidmore machine was coming east on Route 20 towards Erie. A Keeshin truck-trailer operated by Frank L. Mosher of Erie was going west.

The machine and truck-trailer met head-on on a curve on the road which witnesses told state police the Skidmore car did not negotiate.

State highway patrolmen and Coroner W. G. Stroble were conducting an investigation to learn why the Skidmore family was on a trip late last night when the tragedy occurred.

Skidmore was thrown clear of the wreckage and his wife and son were crushed beneath the overturned trailer on the truck. The entire left side of the Skidmore car was sheared away.

Would-Be-Assassins Enter Villa
Occupied By Mme. Magda
Lupescu Near Vienna

(International News Service)
VIENNA, April 17.—A new attempt to assassinate Mme. Magda Lupescu, red-haired favorite of King Carol, was responsible for the series of drastic disciplinary measures taken throughout Rumania, according to reports in diplomatic circles here today.

The would-be assassins succeeded in entering Mme. Lupescu's villa on the outskirts of Bucharest, the reports said, but were discovered and driven off.

Reports here said the fascist iron guard's secret tribunal had "sentenced" Mme. Lupescu to death, and that as a result she had fled the country.

(Editor's Note: Direct dispatches from Bucharest stated Mme. Lupescu still is at her villa and that there is no confirmation of the

Arranged

AMERICAN LEADERS
OUT OF CONFERENCE

(International News Service)
TORONTO, Ont., April 17.—Premier Mitchell Hepburn today announced that a conference between General Motors officials and striking employees of the Oshawa plant had been arranged for two o'clock this afternoon.

Oshawa, Ont., April 17.—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario and a worker's committee shorn of its "foreign agitator" member were scheduled to meet today in another attempt to settle the strike of 3,700
General Motors employees here.

Following a meeting of 3,000 strikers, Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, announced Hugh Thompson, CIO organizer from the United States, will not participate in the meeting.

His place will be taken by J. L.
Cohen, Canadian counsel of the CIO who will act as a peace representative of the strikers.

The announcement was regarded as a victory for Hepburn, who had refused to deal with the strikers as long as Thompson was a member of the committee.

Martin said the new negotiations will begin in Hepburn's office in Toronto. Neither he nor Thompson will attend, he said, but they will "guide" the union representatives who do attend the peace parley.

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 16.—
Three buildings in the heart of Washington's business district were in ruins today as a result of a dis-necessitated calling additional fire-far away as Pittsburgh.

Four other stores were also damficials placed total damages in the neighborhood of between $300,000 and $400,000. No one was seriously injured during the conflagration although several were treated for minor wounds, according to an early checkup by local authorities.

Starting in the basement of the spread rapidly and were fanned by the wind to an adjoining building housing the Ben Reynolds music store and then to the George B.

Cause of the blaze, termed by old-

"GLAD TO BE BACK IN U. S."

AFTER telling newspapermen about the "great experiment" he witnessed in Russia, Joseph E. Davies, United States Ambassador to Moscow, remarked that he was "very glad" to be back in America. This seems to be the stock expression for Americans returning from Russia, Germany and Italy.

Flag-waving patriotism such as practiced under the dictatorships has always been repulsive to visitors from this nation. They realize through the most impartial logic that their country has more than a slight edge in the opportunity and freedom made sacred by the Declaration of Independence.

Each new liberty lost by the citizens of a dictator-ruled land is a shock to Americans whose first thought is, "Why do they put up with it?" A campaign of propaganda starting in the schools and continuing in all types of publications takes care of that. And if any citizen becomes courageous enough to protest, there is the firing squad.

Americans, despite their advantages, are persistent about perfection. They have not become smug in the realization that a sacred declaration or constitution assures a continuation of their liberties unless they themselves rule otherwise.

Every new issue or scheme emerging on the national scene is contested to the point where the American people at least have a working knowledge of its implications. An example of this eagerness to probe the depths is President Roosevelt's attempt to reorganize the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Roosevelt submitted his plan on the wave of the greatest popular support ever attracted by a President of the United States. Yet his announcement had no more than been made before the opposition drew into battle line.

The fight has waged with increased fury since that date. Leaders of both factions have stumped the nation. Newspapers have been filled with articles analyzing the plan and the apparent reasons behind it. Thus the issue heads for a showdown with the citizenry of a nation informed.

Mr. Davies on his return from Russia was "very glad" to be back in the United States where government is still an agency in the hands of the people. He no doubt thought of how Stalin would have handled such a proposal as the Supreme Court change. It would have gone into effect with no questions asked, even by those who saw in it a new blow at their independence.

IT JUST WOULDN'T WORK

Bertrand Russell, famed British philosopher and mathematician, has again come forward with his extreme pacifist program for the solution of Europe's ills.

In brief, he urges that Britain disarm, and then "if Hitler marched his troops into this country, when we were undefended, they should be welcomed like tourists and greeted in a friendly way."

Russell claims that such tactics would "take the starch" out of any invading army, reducing militarism to a simple absurdity.

The theory sounds attractive. But the trouble is it runs counter to human nature. No self-respecting people would allow their homes and communities to be overrun by foreign forces without offering some kind of indignant resistance.

However, it is a good thing to have men like Russell propose honest and thoroughgoing adoption of disarmament as the only real road to peace. The impracticability of the idea for immediate application does not minimize its potency as a means of calling attention to the inevitable connection between arms and war.

THE BADGE OF WEALTH

Nowhere else in the world, they say, is practically everybody willing to admit that he is out for all the money he can make; yet nowhere else is money, once gained, treated with such disrespect by its possessors. In fact, a very rich American who does not give away a large part of his possessions is regarded as rather a dubious fellow.

We are all after money and yet we do not object to parting with money as soon as we get it. What is the answer? It is that we do not really care any more about money than do other peoples, but that we go after it in America simply because there is nothing else for a man to go after. It is human to crave distinction, and the surest way to win distinction is to acquire great riches.

The esteem of worthy men is, of course, the only real distinction attainable by any man, anywhere; and it is the only distinction a truly great American deserves. But the truly great are such rare birds that they may be disregarded in any calculation involving the masses of the population. Most people are less concerned about being actually superior than about securing somehow a badge of superiority.

LEAVING IT TO THE LITTLE WOMAN

The three Larchmont (N. Y.) husbands who failed so ignominiously in their plan for a systematic injection of business efficiency and economy in their homes are not the first to learn that running a household is vastly different from running a business suggests the Inquirer of Philadelphia. These hopeful suburbanites, doubtless sharing the familiar feeling that their household expenses were too high, organized a Home Conservation Movement, headed by a "dictator" that was all set to invade Larchmont homes, sweep out waste and mismanagement and install a balanced budget in every kitchen. That their crusade ended with devastating completeness is something that older and wiser husbands could have foretold from the start.

The supine admission made by the defeated Home Conservators that they like their homes the way they were before the abortive Movement started gives some slight indication of what they must have gone through while trying to convince their helpmeets of the virtue of business efficiency and economy.

It is sad but true that the run of the mill husband has too many pet extravagances of his own, and is too dependent on a variety of domestic comforts and conveniences that are not strictly in keeping with the high virtue of economy, to be able to preach conservation principles to his spouse. The wise man, knowing his vulnerability and fearful lest his wife take him at his word and let him run the household ("And see if you can do any better"), is likely to let well enough alone and leave the home management where it belongs, in the capable hands of the little woman.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NAUGHTY BEFORE COMPANY

Most guests and hosts judge a child's general training by the way he acts in their presence. While this assumption is approximately correct most times, there are some exceptions. An occasional child whose behavior has been considered good by the family and close neighbors may actually appear before strangers to be badly spoiled.

Wembo Welch is four. His father and mother and the neighbors had been very chummy with Wembo, answering all his questions kindly, listening to his accounts of real or fanciful experiences, encouraging him in self-expression and invention.

To his home one evening guests came for dinner. The parents, in their effort to be very hospitable hosts, turn their whole attention to the company for 15 minutes at a stretch, nor do these guests make any attempt to include young Wembo in their conversation. The lad attempts to gain an audience once, twice, three times, but fails. He is wounded by the unaccustomed treatment. He just can't bear to be ignored so long. Even his parents have said nothing to him or about him for a period which seems to him a day. He makes up his mind to get attention. Already angry, he easily can feign more. His parents are chagrined. Wembo, sensing their predicament, finds that the guests have turned their eyes on him. His parents scold, threaten, coax; no matter, he's the center of the stage. He has captured everyone's attention. He has hit upon a formula that works; he will try it again, perhaps.

Don't Ignore Child

When you go with your young child to another's home, or when you have guests in yours, see to it that your child is not ignored for long intervals, and that he feels himself a worthy member of that group. Don't, on the other hand, let him have too much attention. Try to turn him to activities at which he can earn worthy approval. In case your child usually conducts himself properly, be loath to punish him when in the presence of strangers he breaks forth in unexpected bad behavior. Study his problem with great care, and yourself, if moreover, he merely repeats some bad behavior before strangers which you had let pass by unpunished at other times, don't torture him just to protect your personal pride. Prepare yourself and him by day, when there is no company, for the times when there will be. Train him and yourself while at home to act well away from home.

I. I. I.

WHENEVER I get a new necktie I wear it every day until it's frayed and then wonder why I never have any new neckties.

I extend a grateful hand to Damon Runyon, who doesn't like eggplant, either.

I envy pipe-smokers, but I don't see how they can do it. . . . Me, I burn my tongue.

I know a man who had worn a moustache and beard for more than 50 years. . . . I asked him why and he said he didn't know, but there seemed to be just as much reason for letting hair grow as for shaving it off every day.

I believe in luck. . . . I can't get "numerology" into my head.

I'm sentimental about young couples I see walking down the dark street hand in hand.

I asked a young aviator's wife how her husband was affected by airplane crashes that didn't involve him. . . . She said that for a day he wouldn't talk about flying at all, and then he snapped back at his normal composure.

I know a man who doesn't answer the telephone unless he feels like it. . . . Just let it ring. . . . How can a man be so lacking in curiosity?

Four out of five times I don't catch the news when I'm introduced. . . . Am I deaf, or are most of the strangers in this world named Mr. Mumble-Mumble?

I can't tell a mushroom from a toadstool—and I'm not as good a judge of human nature as I used to think I was, either.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

RICH DAIRY CENTER

Do you know that Troy, in Bradford County, is in the heart of one of the richest dairy centers in America?

In Bradford County are found probably as many purebred cattle as there are in any other county in the State. The county leads in the production of hay, honey, eggs, and buckwheat.

Troy is situated on the Roosevelt Highway (U. S. Route 6). Route 14 is the north-south highway which merges with Route 111 at Trout Run, about 13 miles north of Williamsport.

Views from Armenia Mountain are said by travelers to be some of the finest scenic panoramas in the world. Mount Pisgah is one of the highest points in Pennsylvania. This area is fine for fishing and hunting.

Rentz, today were ready to submit their camp site improvements for the current season at the next meeting of the board. "We'll make some improvements," General Secretary R. L. Meermans said, "but the definite improvements must be decided by the board later."

There's a funny side, too. Hear the economic royalist crying: "Save us from the radicals, Mr. Roosevelt."

LEONHARDT-KLAMER WEDDING ANNOUNCED

The first wedding to take place in the new and beautiful Christ Lutheran church at Washington and Beckford streets was that of Miss Hilda Leonhardt of 1012 Cunningham avenue became the bride of Rudolph Klammer of 1611 South Beaver street.

Rev. W. R. Sommerfield, pastor of the church, officiated with the ring ceremony. The young couple had for attendants the brother-in-law and sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Zeigler. It was a quiet wedding and guests were only close friends and members of the immediate families of bride and groom.

The bride wore a pretty gown of brown and tan tailored taffeta and a corsage of tallma roses. Her matron of honor wore grey and cerise and a shoulder corsage. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the Leonhardt residence. The table was centered by a large wedding cake and miniature bride and groom. Appointments were in pink and white.

Later the couple departed for a wedding trip to the Great Lakes country. Upon their return they will reside in their newly furnished home at 1502 Thorpe street.

Both are well known young residents. Mr. Klammer is employed by the Keystone-Chevrolet concern and his wife by the New Castle Notions company.

The marriage of Geraldine Goode, of Warren, Pa., was solemnized Saturday, April 10, in the First Lutheran church in Warren, with Rev. Rodgers officiating.

The bride was attractive in a gown of blue lace, with shoulder corsage of blue roses. Her attendant, Miss Harriet Chester, of Oil City, wore a dress of yellow lace, with matching accessories. Charles Sizer, of New Castle, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony, dinner was served to 25 guests in the dining room of the Y. W. C. A. They left later on a short trip, and upon their return will go to housekeeping in Emporium, Pa.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Lumber Dealers Seeking Program

Would Provide Small Homes Of Frame Construction For Nation

MASS PRODUCTION WOULD CUT COSTS

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 17.—I was surprised by what you might call the unintended significance of the coincidental meeting in Washington recently of the representative foresters of the United States and members of sympathetic groups and the National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

That is to say, it occurred to me that this was a sort of "lion and lamb" gathering.

Because I am sure it has been the public impression for many years that the forest products industries were the horrid ravagers of our beautiful forests which preserve so vigorously defending from their would-be destroyers.

Now destroyers and preservers seem to be getting together.

PROGRAM APPROVED

On the one hand, the lumbermen are heading a country-wide movement—apparently with general public approval—to provide folk with inexpensive small homes, here, there and everywhere, such being mostly, of necessity, of frame construction.

On the opposite hand, the forestry enthusiasts are favorable to the program.

Families which need modest little domiciles at reasonable prices are going to be provided with them by the lumbermen—not out of benevolence, of course, but out of a desire for the excellent profits resulting from a combination of mass production and reduced costs, which characterize modern industry.

And forestry needs approvingly.

A SOUND THEORY

I repeat that, in effect, we have here the high-brow foresters uniting with the low-brow lumbermen to provide the country with excellent homes at low prices.

After all, this strikes me as reasonable. I don't see why the forest service should not grow trees to be cut down to make homes; the agriculture department, of which the forest service is an adjunct, has been primarily charged, from its beginning, with the duty of growing food animals, ticketed, before being born, for the slaughter house.

To be sure, food animals should not be eaten up faster than they can reproduce, thereby exterminating them.

Neither should forests be chopped down faster than they can grow them.

TREES—IF NOT WASTED

The agriculture department's job is to keep food animal production up to the butchers' requirements.

Why shouldn't it be the forestry service's job to keep trees growing in place of those which are felled to furnish the raw material for low-cost housing?

Hitherto the service's inclination has been to save ALL trees.

Lumbermen have indicated that housing is entitled to SOME of them.

THINKING OF UTILITY

Doubtless lumbering has been wasteful.

Heaven knows that our destruction of food animals has been wasteful. Consider what we did to the buffalo, and ducks and geese, and other wild life. We even have something of a shortage of domestic "critters".

Of late years, however, lumbermen assert that forest preservation has been a bit fanatical—over-emphasizing the desirability of growing more trees, simply to look beautiful, without much regard to their utility for building purposes after they have reached maturity.

Paraphrasing, it goes almost without saying, that a lumberman deprecates forest destruction by fire as much as it is deplored by any forester.

STEWART SEES PROGRESS

This was the first forestry meeting I ever attended at which someone did not refer to "devastators", "vandals" and "destroyers" in connection with forest utilization.

This time utilizers and preservers spoke quite co-operatively.

Such harmony suggests to me the arrival of a day of practical forestry, with the prospect of forestry and profits, even a little public bounty, going together, in which we will have a lot more forests for the ethically-minded, together with cheaper lumber for the small would-be householder.

There's no argument about the power of congress to change the supreme court. The constitution gives the court authority "with such exceptions . . . and regulations as congress shall make."

Man at his worst: "I was a fool to do it, but God won't let me be caught because I do so much good."

Circuit Court Decision Does Not Halt Security

(International News Service)
BOSTON, April 17.—Despite the 2 to 1 finding by the United States first circuit court of appeals that two of its titles were unconstitutional, the vast Social Security act program continued uninterrupted today.

The act "is still the law of the land unless the supreme court decides otherwise," State Collector of Internal Revenue William M. Welch, adding:

"Business will continue as usual, unless the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in Washington decides to acquiesce to the opinion of the local court as to the policy of procedure by the collectors."

Meanwhile, government attorneys and counsel for George P. Davis of Waltham, stockholder in the Boston and Maine railroad and the Edison Electric Illuminating company, who brought the test cases, pressed for early consideration by the supreme court of the circuit court of appeals finding.

Calling it a three-horse team showed considerable restraint. He might have said something about a mule.

It is also used as a parking lot in the downtown district. During the past winter, the ground became very rough, the weather making quite a number of holes in the surface.

City Detective William Donch said the bomb had been placed at the rear of the associated freight forwarders garage which adjoins the convent. Although the detonation was clearly felt in downtown office buildings, O. S. Evans, a truck driver, of Export, sleeping in his truck about 50 feet from where the bomb exploded, was not awakened until police shook him. Detectives were puzzled over the reason for the bombing as no labor trouble had been reported at the garage.

If You Should Move — What?

If you should move to another city and apply for credit, what do you suppose would happen?

Within one hour or less time your record—the record you made in New Castle—would be as an open book to the merchants of your new home city. In self-defense, and as a protection for the honest buyer, the credit men of the United States have so perfected their organization that there is no point, however, small, which cannot avail itself of every facility for knowing who and what you are.

The merchant does not make your credit rating. That is one thing that you and you alone can control.

The merchants of this community expect the payment of your accounts in full by the 10th of the month following date of purchase. If you cannot pay your bills in full, at least go to your merchant and make some arrangement that is satisfactory to him. Whether you be rich or poor, credit is your greatest asset.

A prompt pay rating in the New Castle Credit Exchange will be your best friend when you move to another city among strangers.

It is never uphill to the man on the level.

GRIMES IS NOT PICKING DODGERS TO WIN PENNANT

But, "I Have A Hustling Ball Club, And Will Not Finish In Cellar," Says Grimes

Cookie Lavagetto Has Second Base Cinched, Team Has Good Pitching Staff

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Burleigh Grimes, who tempers optimism with caution, is not picking his Dodgers to win a pennant this year.

The greatest disciple of the itching fist and the blistering tongue since John McGraw's day is not even picking them to finish in the first division.

But he does emphatically state that his current crop of Dodgers is at least 100 per cent better than the gang of misfits who misrepresented Brooklyn last year.

Better Ball Players.

"I'll show you why they're better," he said today. "In the first place, they're better ball players. The ones we've held over have improved and the new ones are better than the ones we let go."

"They'll hustle all the way, win or lose. And that defiance stuff is out. I don't mind mechanical errors—much—but any 'skulls' will cost dough. And if they want to sleep they can use the hotel beds and not my base paths."

"My catching is a little better. So's my outfield. My pitching is far better and much stronger than many people imagine and my infield is 100 per cent stronger. Why, say, last year there was a hole at second base so big you could have built another Empire State building there."

Lavagetto At Second.

"We've got more speed, more power and more smartness. Just how much I won't know until we get going awhile. Maybe not enough to climb very high in the standings but certainly more than enough to keep us out of the cellar."

Grimes is counting heavily on Cookie Lavagetto to plug the gap at second base. "He's a pretty sweet fielder," says Burleigh, "and he can give that onion a long ride. Come to think of it, we've got several fellows who can break up a game for you. Babe Phelps, Joe Stripp, Winslett, Brack and old Heinie Manush. Heinie will surprise you—also a lot of those wooden armed throwers we have around nowadays."

Good Pitchers.

You gather immediately that Burleigh is not unduly impressed with the general run of pitchers. Perhaps that is why he is rather high on some of his own men.

"Munro's better than ever," he says, "and I wouldn't trade him for any other pitcher in the country. He looks like a cinch for 20 games. Frankhouse always is pretty good and Butcher and Hamlin look like they can win. My two crooked arms—Henshaw and Birkhofer—I can drop into spots. Henshaw always could make those Phils and Pirates mean and big Birkhofer's a curly wolf against the Giants sometimes."

Ryantown-Colored Elks Will Play

Manager Joe Samuels of the Ryantown baseball team announced today the signing of the Colored Elks team, co-members of the City league for a practice game at the Ryantown field on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

All of the Ryantown men are asked to appear in uniform for the Sunday game. This will be New Castle's first baseball game of the year and should draw a big crowd to the Sampson street field.

The New Castle Rifle Club went to Greenville for a practice shoot last night and came home with a victory 946 to 929. Duck Pugh was high man for the match with 193 out of a possible 200.

The New Castle Club members will have a meeting Monday night at the Cathedral at 7:30 o'clock. Plans for the coming championship match with the Mahonings of Youngstown will be made.

The results of the shoot last night—New Castle: D. Pugh 193, Wadlington 189, Cramer 189, Hunter 188, Hill 187—total 946.

Greenville: Myers 186, Shine 189, Groover 184, Beck 187, Gully 183—total 929.

Other scorers—Patterson 182, B. McBride 169, Black 135, Hockenberry 182, Cooper 172, McKibben 182, Van Horn 154, McKeown 184, Forman 166, J. Mutter 175, Benton 177, Britton 180, Gibson 182, Mowry 180, Hensley 177, J. Aber 181, P. Smith 174, Wagerman 179, Ruffing 165, Jackson 149.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Edward Mylin, football coach at Bucknell for three years, has been named head football coach at Lafayette. He was graduated from P. & M. and formerly coached at Lebanon Valley for 12 years before going to Bucknell.

Virgil Gibbs of Kansas City and Nelson Burton of Dallas teamed together yesterday in the doubles division of the A. B. C. and crashed through with a 1,359 total to take the lead from Walter Zanger and Val Metts, both of Louisville, who totalled 1,329 one week ago today.

Victory by the margin of a neck in his three year old coming out party hosted J. H. Leuchheim's Pom-poon back into the favorite's role for the Kentucky Derby. Coming back to control the future books Pom-poon today was held at odds of 4 to 1 for the May 8 event at Churchill Downs. Pom-poon won the Pau-monok handicap at Jamaica yesterday, hence his return to favor.

Spring is here, likewise the Boston marathon and judging from the entries an impressive field will leap when the gun is fired Monday at Hopkinton on the long grind. Johnny Kelly of Arlington, 1935 winner, is favored to win the event. In the field will be Les Pawson, Tarzan Brown, Mel Porter and Clarence Demar, winners of past events. Demar, a printer, has won the record for the Boston marathon having covered the 26 miles 385 miles in 2:31:01.6.

Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, won his way through two matches of the North and South tennis meet at Pinehurst yesterday and will meet J. Gilbert Hall of East Orange, N. J. today. Sabin beat Bob Decker, of Miami, 7-5, 6-2 in a quarter finals contest and then turned back Merimion Cunningham, of Nashville, 5-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, in the semi-finals.

Penn. State opened its baseball yesterday at State College with a 3 to 1 victory over West Virginia in the first of a two game series. Until the eighth inning, Jack Goeke, West Virginia pitcher and Ben Simoncelli, Lion left-hander, were locked in a tight pitcher's battle. A walk, sacrifice and a single by Wear brought in the winning run. Lorenz made the Mountaineers only run when he tripled and scored on Goeke's single in the second frame.

Al Marshall of Cincinnati and Richard D. Lunn of Washington, were winners yesterday in the semi-finals of the Mason-Dixon amateur golf tourney at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Marshall defeated John C. Dawson, of Long Meadow, Mass., on the eighteenth hole. Lunn won from Major T. A. Harris, of Lewisburg, W. Va., with a medal score of 74. The major turned in a 76.

City Softball Circuit Meets Tuesday Night

Three More Teams Needed To Complete League; Crisci In Charge

Five teams, Saks, (formerly Shenangoes), P. A. H. Radiators, Nobil's, and Elk A. C., were represented at the first meeting of the City Softball league, held in the Y. M. C. A. Franklin Crisci, well known local sports figure, was in charge.

Plans for the coming season were outlined by the group. Three more teams are needed to complete the league which promises to be bigger and faster than in other years. All teams interested in joining the circuit, are asked to send representatives at the next meeting, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. Officers will also be elected. Crisci announced.

Tommy Farr No Puncher

New British Heavyweight Who Defeated Maxie Baer Cannot Punch, He Pestors

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Of course, it doesn't pay to be hasty in this comical profession; so in less than two years time and without going any farther than London, all of us were able to obtain an "exclusive" on it a few evenings ago when Mr. Max Baer, the American echo, blew the decision to an apple turn-over named Tommy Farr of Wales.

Briefly, the mystery of that rather amazing June evening of 1935 under the Long Island stars is exposed at last. In fact, it's a double exposure. Baer No Fighter.

It is now quite clear that the only way James J. Braddock could not have won the heavyweight championship from Mr. Baer that evening was to get arrested on his way to the park. Two years later, we have the spectacle of New York and Chicago fighting for Braddock, but there's no comfort in the thought, since it seems fairly possible that this may be more than he's able to do for himself.

In fact, the inference is clearer than ever before: That whoever next gets in the ring—Joe Louis or Max Schmeling—will get the world's heavyweight title, since the present holder seems to have been the product of a prize fight between nobody much and hardly anybody at all. The latter, of course, is Mr. Baer—by acclamation.

Farr Not Puncher.

Braddock himself was admittedly finished four years before he tactfully arrived at a point where he could lick everybody and, to this day, the champion—an honest rugged soul—will probably admit that the one thing he can guarantee to do all over again is beat Baer. In fact, he doesn't even have to prove it. Farr did that already.

The latter, it seems, doesn't punch an opponent. He just pesters him and, to give a further line on this party, he recently went 15 rounds with Ben Ford, who, it seems, was knocked out by Maurice Strickland of New Zealand, who, it seems, was knocked out by Unknown Winston.

Radiators Will Meet On Monday

The National Radiators softball team, will have a workout Monday night at 5:30 o'clock weather permitting; it was announced today. The following players are asked to report: Peachy Fornataro, Sammy Bullano, Greg Ross, Irv Rubels, Frank Stone, Austin Cowmeadow, Nick Gennock, Eddie Hilton, DeCaprio, Jerry Pia, Jack Lewellyn, and El Lockley. Also any others who care to try out for the team.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 17.—As these lines are being written, somewhere in the Blue Grass counties of Kentucky a horse is being born, perhaps the horse that will win the Kentucky in 1940 . . . also, perhaps, a horse that never will win a race.

This is the foaling season, and hundreds of ungainly weanlings are standing beside their mothers, or romping with her over the soft spring turf . . . Foaling time begins in January and continues until May, but regardless of the date of his birth, the youngster born in 1937 will become a yearling Jan. 1.

An hour after the foal is born, he is lifted to his feet by a stable attendant, and stands on grotesque, trembling legs . . . But the baby learns quickly . . . born in the morning, he may go for a short stroll in the paddock with his mother in the afternoon . . . an hour's walk is enough . . . but when he is four days old he spends a whole day in the paddock, weaving about on spindly legs, with joints that seem swelled all out of proportion . . . when two weeks old, the young fellow has learned to enjoy galloping . . . it is a lesson he learns from his mother.

When the Derby winner of 1940 is hardly two weeks old, he learns about a halter, though he is not to know the feel of a bit until next year . . . the suckling periods lasts from three to six months . . . gradually the baby learns to nibble grass . . . weaning time is October . . . the growing boy will tear into a meal of mashed oats.

Part With Mother.

Next fall, about the time when Notre Dame is meeting Minnesota, the Derby winner of 1940 will be parting forever from his mother . . .

Need One More Team In League

Colonial A. C. Or Tin Mill May Take Eighth Place In League

There is one opening left in the City Baseball league at the present time. The Colonial A. C. has not been heard from for over a month. The manager is asked to get in touch with Mr. Walther at The News, or by calling 1153 J.

Alex Black is not sure yet whether or not there will be a Tin Mill team. Mr. Black would perhaps give the City league consideration in event that he has a team, he intimated yesterday.

At the present time the league is composed of seven teams, the West Pittsburgh team being the seventh team in line.

Foxx Reported In "Good" Condition

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—Jimmy Foxx, star first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, was reported in "good" condition by physicians at a hospital here today. The Red Sox first sacker entered the hospital yesterday to be treated for a sinus infection, irritation of the throat and chest ailment.

Tenpin Records Are Threatened

Another Series Of "Ifs" Or New Marks Would Have Been Established

By GLEN BIRCHARD
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Plenty of "ifing" is going the rounds today in certain of American bowling congress tournament circles as a result of ten pinning the last 24 hours. And it is with reason, for, "if" a few splits and misses had not fallen to the lot of two teams last night, either would have taken first place and ousted the Krakow Furlnures of Detroit.

Going farther back than the team event a few more "ifs" can be applied for "if" Virgil Gibbs, of Kansas City, Mo., had not lost his effective ball in the last game of his doubles with Nelson Burton of Dallas, this pair would have broken the all-time mark of 1415 held by Gil Zunker and Frank Benkovic of Milwaukee, Wis.

Six Pins Short

And again there was the "if" entering into Burton's personal labors in the singles event. Having set up a 650 in his team event and a 694 in his doubles he looked good for first place in the all events for all he had to do was get a comparatively ordinary 628. As it was he shot 623 and landed in second place with a 1976, only four pins behind the leader, Otto Jasper of Cincinnati, O.

The team event provided two rare bits of pin-gutting for the same squad as the windy city bowling association of Cicero, Ill., hit 3089 to land second, and Behringer Diamonds of Buffalo totalled 3086 for third place. Windy City had the better chance as it went into its third game working on 2050 from games of 1008 and 1042. It wavered the final frame and took a 1039.

Back Nine Of Sylvan Heights Course In Open

Expect Entire Course To Be Ready For Play During Coming Week

Announcement was made by course manager and pro, Capt. V. Arthur Smith, of the Sylvan Heights course, that the back nine of the course is now open for play.

It had been hoped to have the entire course open by today, but several of the greens on the first nine are still a little wet and it was felt that a heavy play on them might cause damage which would take many weeks to repair.

The back nine is in excellent condition, it is stated, and players will find conditions ideal for so early in the season.

The goal has been set for $2,000. With $245 of that turned in already by members of the Kiwanis club it cannot fail.

Not getting, but giving; not only receiving, but giving back something that shall, as Lincoln phrased it—"Make the world better because of our little life in it."

Butler Barracks Officer Dismissed

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, April 17.—Capt. Jasper Ottendahl, commandant of the Butler barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police, was dismissed Friday for allegedly driving while under the influence of liquor.

The dismissal followed a court martial in Harrisburg Thursday at which Capt. Ottendahl was found guilty of "conduct unbecoming a state policeman and an officer," according to Maj. Lynn G. Adams, superintendent.

It may be a bad guess, but when better planes with more safeguards have more wrecks, we begin to doubt the accuracy of that word "accident."

Thirteen committees were represented at the conference for 4-H club leaders which took place Thursday afternoon in the office of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, with Mrs. C. M. Hartzell, of Shenango township, presiding. Mrs. Robert Peabody, of Harlansburg, served as secretary. The purpose of the meeting was to furnish additional training for club leaders and the main topics discussed were: Conducting a 4-H Club meeting; keeping club records; responsibilities of local leaders. In addition, a club calendar for the coming season was projected. The first week of May will be reorganization week among the clubs, when the clubs are to reorganize for the coming year.

Plans were outlined for a camp to be conducted from June 21 to June 25, and for the annual club week at State College, which will take place August 9 to 14. The annual county roundup will take place on October 2.

Following the business meeting, Miss Jean Robertson, state club leader, presented an exhibit of the various types of club work, and also showed colored movies of a day at camp.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL.

Here is another... someone guessed the first one... it's not often that you find a politician that is as versatile as one we have on court-house hill... yes, sir, my friends, he is different... like many of our politicians, he was a farmer by trade... he still keeps his fingers in the dairy trade... he, too, has that one thing that we admire and what we think makes life worth living... a good sense of humor... getting on now... besides being a farmer and politician he has the idea that beautiful women make the world go 'round... he backs a business that makes beautiful women... name me a man more versatile.

Last night they had an amateur show at the Ben Franklin Junior High... it was sponsored by a local club... about 40 amateurs from all parts took part... they, of course, all turned on their best and went to town... one who took the eye was Michael Cea of Long Avenue... he is a one-man band... he can play six instruments at once, and the best part, and one which we admire... he's about 65 years of age... we have a hard time playing one instrument at our age.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Asterpanis... Al Owens and Don Thompson respectively... use a taxi to do their running around... we spotted them riding around town Friday... and each one sitting there as big as Mickey (Mickey Mouse)... as we remember they were on our list of certain young men to watch.

Breaking back into print is our pants boy... Dan Treloar... we hear that the boy is quite a lute player... he has never taken a lesson to our knowledge, but due to that unexplainable understanding he has mastered the fool thing... when playing his instrument... he hears nothing and sees nothing... he sits there... just sits there... plucking his lute... you should see him.

The members of the Field Club are going to have a swimming pool this summer... it is official... they will start construction as soon as possible.

Market Turns Into Irregular Channel And Trading Is Quiet Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 17.—The stock market settled into an irregular and quiet trading range today, after slipping a little at the start.

Coppers and tractions, along with some steels, bore the brunt of the initial selling. Building shares, amusements and packing issues were mostly improved.

The reduction in domestic copper prices to 15½ cents a pound continued a depressing influence in that group, although opening losses were well over a point in American Smelting, Anaconda, Kennecott and International Nickel were about halved later.

Big steel, after losing a half-point, moved a small fraction above its previous close, while Bethlehem cut a point down in half.

Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube slipped fractionally.

Most motor shares converted small losses into equal-sized gains. Chrysler climbed nearly a point and Auburn did slightly better. General Motors, though, was lower.

Certain-Tied common and preferred were outstanding in a firm building section, chalking up gains of two and four points, respectively, before meeting profit-taking.

Strength reflected improved earnings in the building industry. E. M. T. and Manhattan Railway dropped to new lows for the year in the tractions. Rails were slightly easier. Utilities were steady.

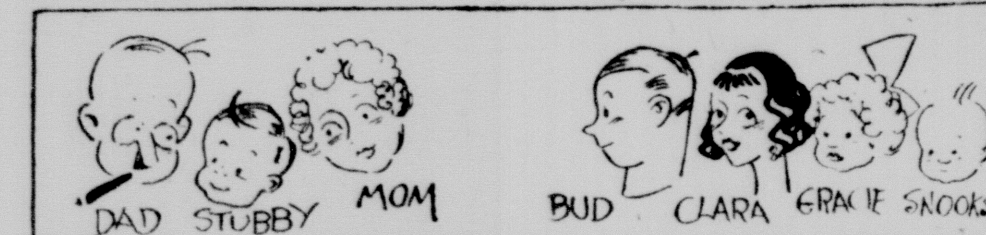

Bonds were quiet and mixed. Grains met support, while cotton recovered $1 a bale.

More Agencies
In Hospital PlanResidents In Outside Boros
Able To Pay Hospital
Dues At Stations

New agencies were named today for the Jameson Memorial Hospital Prepaid Hospitalization Plan, in order to accommodate people living in districts outside the City of New Castle. The P. W. Griffin Hardware store at Bessemer has been designated as an agency, the office of W. J. Gilmore in Hillsville and the office of W. W. Raub in Edenburg have also been named.

The popularity of the prepaid hospitalization plan is not confined to the city. Realizing the value of the plan whereby they can insure against large hospital bills, the rural residents have taken up the idea equally as enthusiastically as the city residents have.

Applications continue to pour into the hospital offices and as fast as possible, credentials are being mailed to the members of the plan. Recent improvements in the technique of the plan have simplified the matter of becoming a member and the establishment of agencies throughout the county has simplified the matter of paying the monthly or yearly fees.

Struthers, O.

The first 1937 ore train to operate over the Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad rolled into Struthers, O., late yesterday from Cleveland, where earlier in the day the freighter "Snyder" had unloaded it after a voyage from the head of the Great Lakes.

News of the first ore shipment reached headquarters of the division here.

"It's the first cargo of the year for us," said an operating official of the division.

The lake shipping season is getting an early start and on Monday the Pennsylvania's car ferry, "Ashtabula," will leave Ashtabula harbor for its first trip across to Port Burwell, Ont.

Close School On
Threat Of StrikeHarlansburg High School
Pupils Have Grievance
It Is Reported

Determined to break up a threat of a possible renewal of a "strike" of students in the Harlansburg school, the directors closed the school on Friday afternoon. The building will be opened on Monday morning.

The full details as to why the strike took place are not entirely clear. Director Norman A. Hunt stated today that he wasn't just sure why the students struck but that on Thursday, eleven of the 75 high school students went on strike because they had been kept in on Wednesday, missed the school bus and had to walk home.

"We don't do like they do in Harlansburg, pay people for sitting around on strike," said Hunt, "so we just closed the school on Friday when we heard the students were going to strike."

County Detective A. Sharp Leslie was called to the school on Friday and said today that he understood the difficulty was over a fifteen minute allowance at noon. At the beginning of the year the directors cut the noon lunch period from one hour to 45 minutes and dismissed school 15 minutes earlier in the evening.

Lawrence County
Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

PROGRAM FOR SHEEP FIELD
DAY COMPLETED

Quality of work, handling of the sheep and shears lack of cuts on the sheep, speed and condition of the fleece, are the points, Judge P. C. MacKenzie, superintendent of livestock from State College will consider in selecting the winners of the Sheep Field Day program next week.

This Field Day will be held on the farm of R. P. Peebles, near Harlansburg, Lawrence County, on April 20. The contest will begin at 1 p. m. and is open to shepherds from all Northwestern Pennsylvania counties. Lawrence County is included in this area, and the contest is being held in this county.

There is an aroused interest in the farm flock this year, apparently due to prices. There is a great deal of interest being shown in the Field Day scheduled for next week.

A complete program covering all phases of the sheep industry has been arranged. The program includes:

Competitive sheep shearing contest.

Management Factors which Aid in Parasite Control—P. C. MacKenzie, State College.

Wool Marketing Conditions Today—W. B. Connell, sheep extension specialist, State College.

"Shearing Demonstration"—Raymond Henderson, Hickory, Pa.

Demonstrations on Drenching, docking and castrating.

Mr. Henderson, who will give the shearing demonstration has won the Ohio State contest a number of times. Any shepherd who has not seen this professional shearerman work will enjoy it.

Due to an active market this year the information which Mr. Connell will bring is such that no shepherd can afford to miss it.

Everyone interested in sheep and wool production is invited to attend this program.

ALFALFA IS GOOD CROP FOR DAIRYMEN TO GROW

Growing alfalfa instead of part or all of the clover acreage is one of the best and most practical parts of the program to reduce milk production costs.

Alfalfa is higher in digestible protein than clover and saves on the bill for purchased protein concentrates. Alfalfa is not so much affected by dry seasons as clover and can be mown for several years if desired.

Alfalfa can be sown successfully in the same manner as clover in either grain or with oats or barley. Many farmers have worked into it without risk of crop failure by substituting alfalfa seed for part of the clover. It is best with alfalfa, however, not to sow too early and to cover the seed if possible by drilling it on winter grain or going over the wheat with a harrow, weeder, or cultipacker after sowing. With spring grain the seed will be well covered and the important thing is to have a fine, solid, seedbed, rather than one which is loose and cloddy.

The most important factor in success with alfalfa is whether the soil is sweet enough. Samples of soil can be tested to determine whether lime is needed and in approximately what amounts per acre. Samples may be brought to the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office building, New Castle for test.

Many farm soils are already sweet from past liming. These should grow alfalfa without much trouble. Where wheat fields need some lime clover may be fairly well but it will not be wise to try alfalfa this spring.

In seeding on winter grain the soil should be tested before the wheat is sown and as nearly as possible the full lime requirement applied and well worked in. If the soil needs over two tons per acre, alfalfa cannot be depended upon even if this much were applied.

In the more northern and high altitude counties a hardy strain of alfalfa, such as Grimm or variegated, should be sown. In the southeastern counties, Kansas, or Nebraska seed may be sufficiently hardy. In the intermediate counties, one should sow northwestern grown seed or Grimm, the latter where winter killing is severe and where a long-lived field is desired.

Where sweet clover or alfalfa has not previously been grown, alfalfa seed should always be inoculated. Commercial culture may be used or a little fine, dry soil taken from a good alfalfa or sweet clover field may be mixed with the seed after first moistening it with something sticky, such as molasses and water.

DO NOT HURRY TURNING
COWS OUT TO PASTURE

A shortage of roughage feeds on many Lawrence County dairy farms is causing herd owners to look forward eagerly to the time when they will turn their cows out to pasture.

Where a feed shortage exists, the temptation is strong, of course, to turn the cows out just as soon as there is a bit of grass available.

This practice is not for the best interest of the farmer, his cattle and the pasture. It is better not to turn the cattle out until the grass is settled. Avoiding early pasturing will prevent injury by the tramping of the cattle. Much more total feed will be produced during the pasture season where the grass gets well started before the cows are turned out and the milk yield per acre of pasture will also be correspondingly greater.

Where a feed shortage exists one or more of the lower producing cows could be disposed of to relieve at once the present situation. This probably will reduce but very little and perhaps not at all, the total amount of milk the herd will produce during the season. It is the well-fed cow that produces the most milk and also produces it at a lower cost per hundred pounds.

Eight cows well fed will often produce more milk than will 10 equally good cows that are kept on short rations. This important fact in profitable feeding has a direct application at all seasons of the year, and is especially important during late winter and early spring when dwindling feed supplies lead to short rations for the entire herd and less milk for sale, unless the number of cattle in the herd is adjusted to the feed supply.

AWAITS REUNION IN OTHER WORLD

NEW YORK, April 17.—A letter to Dog Heaven: Dear Billy—I came across your badly chewed but favorite ball in a closet today and put it away quickly with a slight choke. It has been more than a year now since you went away and we miss you as much as ever.

I think it was largely because after great suffering you faced the Last Terror with such magnificent valour. A patient little sigh, a twitch of your rubbin' tail, and it was all over. For several nights I walked the streets trying to get hold of myself. I wanted you back then as I do now.

I'd meet Terrence, the cop, who used to tickle you behind the ear. John the Waldorf doorman, and others who knew you, and they'd inquire: "Where's Billy?" I'd have to shake my head and go rushing on. They looked at me strangely and then somehow they understood. They no longer ask but they miss you.

Your mistress packed most of your playthings, your harness, leashes, blankets and your water bowl "Pour le Chien" that we got at Rouen, and sent them to the home-keepers at the Bide-a-Wee. You were never selfish and I'm sure you would approve that.

I have been thinking of that dreadful misty night we arrived in Paris and the pink cheeked page boy in the tumbourine cap took you out for an airing, and despite the warning took off your leash—and in your bewilderment you bolted. When he returned, white-faced, holding the empty harness, it was the nearest I ever came to fainting. Poor dear Billy lost in a fog in a strange city. For four frantic hours I searched and finally found you surrounded by a group of chattering, gesticulating Frenchmen at the Coty corner of the Place Vendôme. How you literally bounded into my arms with joy when you saw me and licked at my hands and face with your warm, wet tongue. Then you sank into a fit of exhaustion. All the rest of the night you did not move. I know for I could not sleep.

Because you were deaf and so dependent, I suppose, you entwined our hearts more than the average dog. And left an enormous gap. Mankind in its feeble gropings is always, and for excellent reasons I firmly believe, puzzled by Death. You now know what some day all of us must learn. That is: What is on the other side? For if dogs haven't souls, neither has man, and the end is extinction. So I believe.

I like to imagine you romping through lush Elysian fields, jumping high like a rabbit, stopping now and then quizzically to look back and listen for familiar voices and footfalls. For certainly you will no longer be deaf in your Valhalla. Maybe all this is a foolish hope and maybe again it is not. What seems once miraculous often becomes quite simple. With a twiddle of the dial we fill our room with the music of a Berlin band. So who knows what greater wonders are wrought in the twinkling of an eye? I do not profess to know. I only know I believe and none of the cynics have yet been able to shake that belief the slightest.

You will recall Ben Ali Haggin's dog Nimble that Ben Ali so thoughtfully gave us during the last few months of your earthly stay. You growled at one another at first and once or twice forgot mutual manners and the fur flew. But in a short time you were trotting off together, tugging for the same sniffs of fascinating odors. Because you were old established we kept Nimble in the back at night, but after you left he came in to occupy your bed and indulge in your privileges. Like you, he is a thorough and thoughtful gentleman. He, like you, has never misplaced our confidence, although he's a terrible fraidy cat about being left alone.

For a time Nimble missed you, too, and when going out for an airing would stop suddenly, look back, and whimper. He did not understand. I cannot say Nimble has taken your place in my heart. No dog ever will. But he eased the ache. The cloud is that some day he, too, must go and again wrench our hearts. We do give our hearts to dogs to tear.

Nimble, just as you, indeed as all dogs, has a distinct personality. You'd grin—remember how you used to grin?—at the way he flies into a fury at a big dog. He positively screamed when he saw a mastiff the other day. And him weighing 14 pounds. You were choosy about food. He'll eat even spinach with vinegar.

Nimble is not the cracker-jack "buggy rider" you were either. You were always on the window seat smudging up the pane with your damp nose and missing nothing. Especially the bright lights of Broadway. Nimble is on the floor stretched out and fast asleep in the couple of blocks. The sway of the car seems to act like a lullaby in the arm or something. That's about all I know you continue to be the same brave spirit in the transition. So au revoir and we will be seeing you!

AROUND CITY HALL

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop stated today that guards have been erected at two points and are being erected at another for safety. Each of the poles have been imbedded four feet with two feet remaining above the ground. Two strong cables have been erected at Neshannock boulevard and Oak park cemetery and at a turn in Arlington avenue. Seventy five feet of cable was placed at the Neshannock boulevard-Oak park point and 200 feet in Arlington avenue. Eight hundred feet of cable and guard rails are now being placed in Rural avenue. Street department employees are doing the work.

Traffic will be quite heavy on the afternoon of May 1. A circus is scheduled in the city, likely a Labor victory celebration parade. The city has issued permits for both.

Mooney Bros. have received a permit for an office and garage to be built in Mechanics street. Some time ago council granted the firm permission to install a gasoline tank and also a permit to the New Castle Water company to lay a water line to the buildings.

City has authorized the rental of a concrete mixer at a price of $75.00 a month. Gasoline and oil bill of the city averages about $550.00 a month, according to an estimate obtained at city hall.

No decision in the case of the City of New Castle against the estate of Frederick Taylor wherein the city has attempted to declare a partially constructed building on Grove street a nuisance, has been handed down yet. The reason is that the case has not yet been argued as to the law points. Until this is done the courts cannot hand down any decision. The delay occurred due to the insistence of the attorneys in the case that the testimony be transcribed.

Governor George H. Earle has signed the new tax abatement act and persons who are delinquent in their 1935 or 1936 taxes can now pay them without penalty, but interest will be added. In other sessions abatement acts have been passed which abolished both penalty and interest.

Another act which is still in the legislative hopper, according to County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, will reduce the filing fees for liens which are placed where taxes are delinquent.

At the present time Mr. Hartland has several girls working on liens for delinquent taxes of 1931. The fee for filing in each case will be $1.75 if the law is not amended. Under the amendment the fee would be reduced to $1.

There has been some question as to whether liens should be filed for taxes where the taxpayer has taken advantage of the 20 per cent law which was passed two years ago. This provided that where the taxpayer paid up his current taxes in full, he could pay 20 per cent of delinquent taxes for 1931-32-33. Mr. Hartland felt that where such payments were made that this constituted a contract between him and the taxpayer and that it would be unfair if not actually illegal to file a lien.

County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., has ruled that liens must be filed for the 1931 taxes, even though two payments of 20 per cent each have been made.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard will soon be driving two new Oldsmobiles, one at a time of course. The county commissioners have purchased two new Oldsmobiles at a price of $988 with two Olds traded in.

Work has started on the quarry which will supply the stone for the repair work near the Cherry street bridge. The quarry is located on the McMillan farm on Hickory creek. The work will be done by the WPA and is to be started soon.

A commission as a notary public has been registered with Register and Recorder William R. Hanna in the name of Attorney Norman A. Martin. A commission as a policeman for the P. & L. E. railroad has been registered in the name of Hubert Harrison Westerfelt.

Another round in the controversy between the sheriff and the county commissioners has ended in a draw with the indications that two more rounds will settle it. The controversy concerns the meat and grocery bills which are unpaid since January, 1936. These are bills for the care and feeding of prisoners in the county jail.

In an opinion handed down today by Judge James A. Chambers he orders a hearing at a date to be decided by the litigants at which time it will be argued as to what method of procedure shall be taken to provide food and supplies for prisoners. The commissioners have refused to approve the bills on the grounds that the sheriff should be put on a per diem allowance. In the opinion of the court there are two methods and the other approval of the court by presentation of bills. The court indicates in the opinion that if an allowance is granted it should be only the total of bills contracted for but that the reasonableness of the bills should be shown. The probabilities are that following the arguments on the case a final decision will be handed down.

County Commissioner Joseph Hannan, who has been ill for about seven weeks, is said to be improving daily and should be able to return to his office within a short time. When he returns it will probably set at rest the rumor that he is going to resign.

Two new trials were ordered today in opinions handed down by Judge James A. Chambers. In the case of John Stewart Mills and his wife, Marjorie M. Mills, versus J. E. Melvin, trading and doing business as the Melvin-Tyrol company and East Side Service Station, a new trial is ordered due to the inadequacy of the verdict given to Mr. Mills. Nothing was given to Mr. Mills, although she was the one injured in an accident in the service station of the defendant. In the opinion of the court said the verdict was "clearly a failure on the part of the jury." The verdict was $420.18. The court pointed out that the jury thought there was negligence upon the part of the defendant in that it awarded Mr. Mills a verdict. This being true, the court points out that there should have been an award to Mr. Mills.

In the case of Lena Martiala and Henry Martiala, her husband, against Jack Thornhill the court again scores the award of the jury. In this case Mrs. Martiala was badly injured in an accident on the Ellwood road on April 27, 1936. The jury awarded Mr. Martiala $500 and Mrs. Martiala $350. This the court terms "a meagre allowance" for such injuries. Both cases will be listed for trial in October.

An amicable scire facias has been filed in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts James A. Edgar by the First National bank of Ellwood City against J. H. Caplan in the amount of $1296 plus costs, attorney's fees and interest from January 14, 1932.

An amicable scire facias has been issued by the same plaintiff against the same defendant in the amount of $2500 with costs, attorney's fees and interest from December 19, 1931. An amicable scire facias has been issued by Mont L. Alley, executor in the estate of the late Clyde V. Alley, against Charles G. and Nancy McKinley in the amount of $100 with interest from April 15, 1937.
